Be a Friend!

Why does the Library need Friends?

Today's Libraries

The Teaneck Public Library has the largest circulation among Bergen County libraries. It serves Teaneck's 38,000 residents plus thousands of other people who use the Bergen County Cooperative Library System (BCCLS).

Over the years, the Teaneck library, and all other libraries, have adapted to patrons' changing needs. Once, libraries shelved only printed materials, such as books and magazines. Today, however, they offer CDs, DVDs, computers, Internet access, Wii games, and other new media.

A Little Help From the Friends

Updating collections is costly, and not all of these charges can fit into today's shrinking general operating budgets. That's how the Friends help.

Goods & Services

Since its founding in 1979, the Friends has donated books, and many other items to the library. You'll find a partial list of purchases in this brochure.

Over its 30+ years, the Friends has also sponsored concerts, films, and lectures and co-sponsored the Summer Reading Program with the Children's Department.

Get Involved

We hope that you, your family, and your friends use the Teaneck library's many resources. If you'd like to get involved with the Friends and support the library's work, join us at our board meetings. These are held the first Monday of each month, September through June, and are open to all. We welcome your voice and your help.

Benefits of Friendship

Why join?

- Two Members-Only Book Sale Preview days give you first choice of all items.
- The Friends' newsletter keeps you informed about library news and activities, including free films and concerts.
- The Friends' tax-exempt status gives you a tax deduction for gifts beyond membership dues.

How can you help?

- Donate and buy books at the Friends Annual Book Sale. (You might volunteer, too.)
- Attend any of the many free Friends events.
- Tell your friends about the library's events and about the Friends. And bring them along with you!
